

Cuban Ambassador visits AAUA, promises Partnership

The Cuban Ambassador of Nigeria, His Excellency Mr. Elio Savon was in the University last Friday 11th April, 2008 on a courtesy call. Receiving the Ambassador who came in company of his wife, the Vice Chancellor, Prof. P.O. Abiodun thanked him for deeming it fit to visit the University at a time it was putting in so much effort in the area of sponsorship as well as linkage and exchange programmes with both local and foreign institutions. The Vice Chancellor who drew a historical nexus between Cuba and Nigeria presented Yoruba traditional attires and University souvenirs to the august visitors.

Reacting, Mr. Savon thanked the University for the very warm reception accorded him and his team. He promised to assist the University through institutions in his country, in the area of sponsorship and partnership. In attendance were the Principal Officers, Deans and some top members of the University community.
